ISLAMIZATION OF KNOWLEDGE | PHILOSOPHY

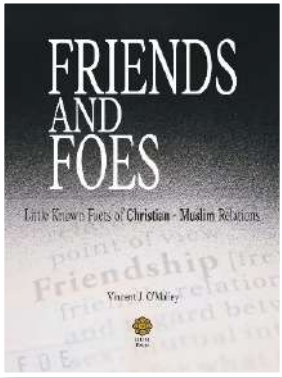

This festschrift is a tribute to the late Emeritus Professor Tan Sri Dr Mohd. Kamal Hassan (1942-2023) in recognition of his impeccable standing within academic circles. It contains contributions by an international panel of scholars commemorating his work and contributions to the world of knowledge. Kamal Hassan’s abiding love of scholarship and concern about the trajectory of modern education exhibited, among others, in his involvement in establishing and leading International Islamic University Malaysia (IUM) As discussed in different sections of this book, his attachment to the university was unparalleled both in length and intensity. His character traits, exemplary behaviour, and commendable leadership were coupled with his educational philosophy rooted in moral sensibilities and Islamic principles. As a human being, an academic, and a scholar, he inspired many in academia and beyond. This volume caters to a general readership as well as scholars and students interested in such topics as IUM, Kamal Hassan, the islamic view of education, integration of knowledge. Malaysian studies, and decolonising education.

ISLAMIC STUDY | DA'WAH | COMPARATIVE RELIGION

Islamic Kalam tradition since its inception during the 2nd and 3rd centuries of Islam had been known to engage with the study of other religions, beliefs and sects. This tradition had produced the paradigmatic and exemplary intellectual genre better known as al-Milal wal-Nihal and al-Farg bayn al-Firaq. This work by a group of dedicated young Muslim scholars of comparative religion is both novel and noble attempts to revive the Kalam tradition in the contemporary scholarship of religion. These scholars firmly believe that having deep appreciation with their own and indigenous Kalam tradition of studying other religions will provide a way forward for better understanding of religious dialogue without being apologetics about their own religion in today's post-modern relativism that permeates in the intellectual and political world. This pioneering work of connecting contemporary comparative religion with the Islamic Kalam tradition should be a model to follow for the future integrative study in this challenging and important field in our lives in order to preserve peaceful co-existence among different religious adherents and communities. With Kalam and Its Relevance in Muslim Scholarship of Religion: An Integrated Approach, the author has edited a collection of intelligible kalam-based expose of the contested scientificity of comparative religion among contemporary scholars. These essays challenge the credential of "value-free" claim of the modern scholarship in comparative religion in a scholarly rigor. They are critical of the prevailing paradigm and method of analysis adopted by the Western students of religions which, to them, avail nothing except obscurantism. Yet it is up to the critical readers of this volume to have a final say.

The second edition of Family Law (Non-Muslims) in Malaysia is generally an improved version from the first edition which was published ten years ago and heavily referred to by Law students as a textbook. It discusses the substantive family laws related to the non-Muslims in Malaysia which are based on the Law, Reform (Marriage and Divorce) Act 1976 and several other supplementary statutes. The recent amendment of the LRA in 2017 has been incorporated with an update on the statutory provisions and decided cases. Besides updating the previous chapters on family law matters, the book updates the global concern on the appropriate law when dealing with family related disputes in the 21st century.

The new topics on reconciliation and mediation are incorporated to emphasize the need for therapeutic intervention when dealing with personal relationships and encourage kindness even in the most difficult of circumstances which can have significant longer-term consequences and lead to higher levels of considerate behavior. The philosophy of family, love and kindness must be well embraced by family law lawyers, judges and administrators of family law in the adjudication process.

ARABIC LANGUAGE & LITERATURE

This book includes five chapters that talk about the second language, its teaching and learning. In the first chapter, the book discusses basic issues in teaching the second language, such as its definition, its relationship to thought, the motivations for learning it, the most appropriate age for learning, and the difference between acquisition and learning. In the second chapter, the book simplifies strategies for learning the second language. Because teaching the student how to learn is the most important and dangerous goal of the educational process; We should not ask the student to discuss and debate, for example, when we have not taught him how to discuss or debate. The third chapter dealt with language skills. As it is the final goal of learning the second language, which is: listening, speaking, reading, and writing, the writer chose to present applied models for teaching each of these skills in addition to theorizing about them. As for the fourth chapter, it dealt with the curriculum and its components and took the Arabic language as a model. It explained the characteristics that must be available for the Arabic language curriculum as a second language, and stressed the necessity of producing the Arabic language curriculum from the reality of its culture without imitating other curricula that differ in culture and thought. As for the final chapter, it talked about the psychology of educational media and educational technology. The book originates the concept of educational media, and demonstrates through previous studies the impact of these media on the educational process.

It is well-established in reading assessment that the same reading skills may vary in difficulty, which makes it almost impossible to come to a definite conclusion on the hierarchy of skills. This is primarily due to the influences of test or item characteristics on the difficulty level of an item. These include the item format, context type, question type, explicitness or implicitness of information, students’ test-taking skills, text type and text length. Given the critical role that reading plays in literacy development and learning, this research is hoped to assist researchers and teacher practitioners in understanding what reading skills are, how they have been conceptualised, and how they can be tested. It is also hoped that this book will be a reference for researchers who are interested in using the Many-facets Rasch Model and the FACETS software to investigate the hierarchical ordering of reading skills or any other language skills.

HUMANITY & SOCIAL SCIENCES

The book aims to present a comprehensive socio-political picture of the Hijaz at the beginning of the 20th century as witnessed and experienced by a Western pilgrim. This is important because the world at that time was getting increasingly globalized and the relationships between the West and the Muslim world were turning out to be dynamic and precarious like never before. Both perils and opportunities abounded and were in full force.

The increasing awareness among Muslims to prioritise Islamic values and be aligned with Islamic teachings in their daily practices has led to an increase in demand for halal products and Shari'ah-compliant services. It has created research opportunities for Islamic products and services to be on par with contemporary demand. The business opportunities for halal products in Islamic Banking and Finance have received tremendous requests and are becoming mainstream business amongst Muslims and non-Muslims. In response to this development, Standard Malaysia has issued MS 1900:2014 Shari'ah Based Quality Management System for an organisation to be accredited as a Shari'ah-compliant organisation. However, the MS 1900:2014 issued only provides a theoretical framework. There is still a lack of research on the attributes and implementation of Shari'ah-Compliant Hospital (SCH) in the healthcare industry. This theoretical framework will be realised into a conceptual framework before it can materialise as an implementation activity for accreditation purposes. The purpose of this research is to develop a framework for Shari'ah-Compliant Hospital for hospital operators in order to understand how Shari'ah-Compliant Hospital can be implemented efficiently and sustain the continuation of the certification

The Holy Qur'an and the Sunnah of Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) signify a conceptual foundation of Islamic art, architecture and the whole universe of the built environment. They furnish the Muslim built environment professionals, policy makers and users alike with an inspired outlook on life and those issues that are pertinent to the realm of the built environment. They also provide some broad rules of morality and guidelines of proper conduct which may or may not be directly related to art, architecture and built environment. Those principles and teachings account for the core of the Islamic monotheistic (tawhid or God's Oneness) worldview and ethical system. Indeed, the whole Islamic built environment is a symbiosis between permanence or perpetuity, which is represented by the constant inclinations of the primordial human nature and the heavenly revelation and guidance, and impermanence or transience, which is necessitated and controlled by the vicissitudes of life.

Islamic finance now, is seen as a viable alternative to the conventional financial system, which has the prospect of high growth and application that could potentially provide the panacea to address issues and problems currently facing the conventional financial system. The unique feature of Islamic finance which requires the compliance to the Shariah in all its aspects, would result in an economy achieving the Maqasid AL-Shariah and obtaining the noble objective of socioeconomic justice for all which is the major characteristic of an Islamic economy. This book aims to provide a comprehensive understanding about the characteristics, structure and operations of an Islamic financial system, particularly in performing its role as an integral component of the overall economic system. Comparisons are made between the Islamic financial system with its conventional counterpart so as to highlight the unique features of the Islamic financial system in mobilizing financial capital in a Shariah-compliant manner, while pointing-out the economic implications of the difference between the two systems. Key principles and characteristics of the Islamic financial system, as well as the financial product or instruments traded in various segments of the system are highlighted.

TRANSLATION BOOK SERIES

Buku Pengenalan Pengajian Terjemahan ialah edisi terjemahan bahasa Melayu bagi karya asal, Introducing Translation Studies oleh Jeremy Munday. Buku ini merupakan sebuah penulisan akademik yang meneroka dan memperkenalkan bidang pengajian terjemahan menerusi perbincangan topik-topik berkaitan terjemahan secara terperinci. Ciri ini seterusnya membolehkan tulisan ini berfungsi sebagai bukapanduan terjemahan. Oleh hal yang demikian, terjemahan ini dihasilkan sebagai inisiatif untuk membantu pembaca yang berminat, khususnya pelajar dalam mengenali bidang terjemahan. Sebagai usaha untuk mengekalkan fungsi dan kesan yang disampaikan oleh penulis asal kepada teks terjemahan, strategi terjemahan dokumentari yang diperkenalkan oleh Nord (1991) dipilih sebagai pendekatan terjemahan. Strategi ini dipilih berdasarkan jenis teks sumber, iaitu teks informatif yang sarat dengan maklumat khusus bidang. Hasilnya, buku terjemahan ini menyampaikan setiap penjelasan yang dijelaskan oleh penulis tanpa sebarang penguguran maklumat penting.
